

Press Releases | Centene Corporation

ST. LOUIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Centene Corporation (NYSE: CNC) announced today that Thomas Wise has been appointed President and CEO of Centene's Texas subsidiary, Superior HealthPlan (Superior). Mr. Wise will report to Christopher Bowers, Senior Vice President, Health Plan Business Unit for Centene, and will be based in the Superior corporate office in Austin, Texas.

Mr. Wise brings more than 15 years of experience in executive management, healthcare finance and strategy development to Centene. Most recently, he served as Vice President, Finance, and Director of Contracting for Superior. In these roles, he maintained financial expectations, established rate setting processes and negotiated hospital contracts that supported Superior's overall business plan. He also provided operational and financial oversight in leadership positions at Texas University Health Plan and United HealthCare of Texas.

Mr. Bowers stated, "Tom exemplifies the strength and depth of senior management within the Centene system. He has a clear understanding of the managed care industry and of Superior's business operations. His leadership will continue to help Superior provide quality programs and services to members in the complex healthcare environment of Texas."

Mr. Wise received his bachelor's degree in Finance and Economics from California State University.
